Explosion Occurs In Front Of Morgan Banking House In Wall Street At the Noon Hour As Workers Were Coming Out.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(By The Associated Press.)—A mysterious explosion in Wall street, near Broad, believed to have been caused by an infernal machine, rocked the heart of New York's financial district at noon today leaving death and destruction in its wake.

Thirty one persons were killed, more than 200 injured, the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., the Sub-Treasury and the Assay Office were partially wrecked and property damage estimated in excess of $1,000,000 was caused by the blast.

Thomas W. Lamont, of the J. P. Morgan firm, expressed the belief, however, that the explosion was purely an accident caused by a collision between an explosive-laden wagon and another vehicle. The firm had received no threats of any kind, he said, and there was no real reason for the planting of a bomb outside the firm's office.

The noon hour had struck and an endless stream of office workers had just started pouring into the streets from buildings in the neighborhood. Suddenly, a cloud of yellowish, black smoke and a piercing jet of flames leaped from the street outside the Morgan office.

Then came a deafening blast. A moment later scores of men, women and children were lying prostrate on the ground, and the streets were covered with debris from thousands of broken windows and torn facade of the adjacent buildings.

Two minutes later the stock and curb exchanges, the financial pulse of the world, had closed. Panic and confusion reigned in the heart of New York's financial district. Thousands of clerks and stenographers fled in terror from adjoining structures. Scores fainted, fell and were trampled in the rush. Meanwhile, the noise of the explosion which was heard throughout lower Manhattan and across the river in Brooklyn, brot thousands of the curious to the scene. The few police on duty in the district were unable to cope with the crowds and a hurry call for police reserves was sent to all downtown police stations.

Sub-treasury officials, fearing that an attempt might be made to rob the building, all the windows of which were broken, requested assistance of the military authorities at Governors' Island and a company of soldiers was sent to guard the institution.

Hurry calls were also sent to all hospitals in the downtown section of New York and scores of ambulances were soon speeding thru the narrow streets. Dressing stations were established in the lobbies of the buildings nearby where the less seriously injured were given treatment.

Explosion Caused by Bomb.
Evidence tending to confirm the theory that the explosion was caused by a bomb or some infernal machine came from several sources.

Chief Police Inspector Lahey reported today that he had found evidence to justify the conclusion that the explosion was caused by a bomb loaded with T. N. T.—trinitrotoluol—reinforced with iron slugs fashioned from window weight bars. Pieces of these slugs were found in several adjacent structures. This type of weight bars, a close inspection by police and department of justice agents disclosed, is not used in any building within a radius of several hundred feet from the zone of the explosion.

Warning that radicals planned a renewal of bombing outrages were sent not less than a month ago to all eastern clients of Wilder, that in his opinion the man according to a statement by Mr. Burns who said he was convinced that today's explosion was a premeditated attack and was not accidental.

Mr. Burns, who said he had been engaged by the Morgan firm to make an investigation of the accident stated that his personal investigation convinced him that a wagon containing a bomb or bombs was left in front of the sub-treasury building with a timing device so fixed as to cause it to explode precisely at noon.

No trace of the driver of the wagon has been found, he said, and added that in his opinion the men escaped a few moments before the explosion occurred.

Fire Chief Kenyon and officers from the bureau of combustibles also expressed the belief that the explosion was caused by a bomb after examining fragments of the Morgan offices. Dr. William P. Doyle, chief of the bureau of combustibles, pointed out that the small hole found in the street

GOVERNMENT IS INVESTIGATING BOMB EXPLOSION

Believed to be Result of Radical Plot

TO DETERMINE NATURE OF EXPLOSIVE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Nearly half a dozen agencies of the federal government were at work tonight in an effort to solve the mystery of the explosion in New York City's financial district and to safeguard government property from similar damage.

In an effort to bring to justice any person or persons responsible for the loss of life in the Metropolitan, agents of the department of justice, secret service operatives of the treasury, inspectors of the postoffice department and experts of agriculture were ordered to the scene of the explosion.

Investigation of the origin of the blast was ordered by Attorney General Palmer upon receipt of the first report from New York and William J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department left Washington for New York on the first train.

Believe Radical Bomb Plot.
The feeling was that the explosion resulted from a radical bomb plot.

Secretary Houston announced that the secret service was at work on the case because of the proximity of the explosion to the United States sub-treasury and assay office. Mr. Houston added that the treasury's reports contained no definite information as to the cause of the explosion.

In the meantime redoubled precautions will be taken to guard the treasury building here. Resumption of war time restrictions were left for New York tonight to aid in determining the nature of the explosive.

The noise of the explosion was heard in Washington by an official of the treasury who was talking on the telephone to an office in the Equitable Building in New York at the time. The conversation was interrupted, he said, by "what sounded like the closing of a large book."

RESIGNATION OF FRENCH PRESIDENT HAS BEEN TENDERED

M. Millerand Seems Likely to be Elected to Office

DESCHANEL IN PUBLIC LIFE FORTY FIVE YEARS

PARIS, Sept. 16.—The resignation of Paul Deschanel, president of France, today resulted in much discussion tonight as to his successor.

The name of Millerand is uppermost, despite the premier's emphatic statement that he would not accept the presidency.

M. Millerand has mentioned M. Jonnart as a candidate whom he would ask his followers to elect.

It is considered, however, that Millerand will have a hard fight to avoid nomination.

Committees have been formed for the purpose formally of informing the premier that he has been chosen as the country's candidate. In these committees all parties except the unified Socialists have joined.

M. Millerand's interview with President Deschanel at Rambouillet today was pathetic. The president replied to M. Millerand's encouraging and soothing remarks with a discouraged shrug of the shoulders, saying in a tone of infinite sadness:

"I know it is all over."

"The boom for a military president, either Marshal Foch or General DeCastellat apparently has died out."

Many Years of Public Life
The resignation of M. Paul Deschanel comes at the end of almost 45 years of active political life during which period he rose from a cabinet officer's secretary to the presidency of the chamber of deputies and finally to the post of chief citizen of France.

Considered one of the nation's most brilliant speakers, he presided with only short periods of interruption over the deliberations of the lower house for twenty years. Less than five months after he was elected president in the early morning of May 24, M. Deschanel fell from a moving train while enroute from Paris to Mont Bryson to dedicate a monument. The president was thrown thru a window which he was attempting to open. He was found in a dazed condition clad in pajamas by a track walker.

M. Deschanel was taken back to Paris where his injuries were officially reported as "superficial wounds in the face and left leg and general prostration."

Failing to recover fully, several months later on the advice of physicians he relinquished his active duties and retired to Normandy for a brief rest. He returned to Paris last June and for a time it was believed he would be able to bear the full responsibilities of his office, but soon there were rumors of a general nervous breakdown with accompanying reports of his intended resignation.

Drys Claim Conspiracy Ex- ists to Overthrow Prohibition

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE IN CONGRESSIONAL FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Declaration was made today by prohibition Commissioner Kramer that dry law enforcement machinery is inadequate.

Coupled with this was a statement by the Anti-Saloon league that the nation is confronted by a gigantic and vicious conspiracy to overthrow prohibition.

At the same time, officials of the league made public a partial list of candidates for congress whom it will seek to defeat because of their position on prohibition.

M'KINLEY IS NOW LEADING SMITH IN SENATORIAL RACE

Over Four Thousand Votes in Lead With 726 Precincts Still Missing—Clerical Error Takes Five Thousand From Smith—Small Still Leading Oglesby by Over 13,000

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Returns early this morning from Wednesday's primary were still inconclusive in the contest of the Republicans for the gubernatorial and senatorial nominations and for the Democratic senatorial honors.

With 726 precincts still missing, William B. McKinley, Lowden candidate, had a lead of 5,549 votes over Frank L. Smith, the candidate supported by Mayor Thompson of Chicago, while with 691 precincts missing out of the 5,737 in the state, Len Small, Thompson candidate for the gubernatorial nomination had a lead of 13,939 over Lieutenant Governor John G. Oglesby, the Lowden candidate.

McKinley Takes Lead.
Then the tabulators of the Chicago returns discovered that a clerical error had given Smith 7,000 women's votes in the 7th Ward, the clerk having mistaken a 2 for the 7. This loss of 5,000 put McKinley in the lead and further reports from downstate added to the gains. With 447 precincts to hear from outside Chicago, McKinley had 244,334 votes and Smith with 279 Chicago precincts unrecorded had 317,335.

Smith had an average of 31 votes to the precinct in Chicago for the 2,194 precincts reported while McKinley had an average plurality of 26 to the precinct for the 2,852 polls recorded outside Cook county.

Small had an average lead in Chicago of 40 to the precinct with 279 polling places to hear from, while Oglesby had an average lead downstate of 26 to the precinct with 691 polls to be tabulated.

Robert E. Burke and Peter Waller were still running neck and neck for the Democratic senatorial nomination. The outcome in all these three races will have to await a full count of the votes, and an official canvass may be necessary.

Story of Explosion
Told By Eye Witness

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(By The Associated Press.)—"It was an crash out of a blue sky—an unexpected, death dealing bolt, which in a twinkling turned into a shambles the busiest corner of America's financial center and sent scurrying to places of shelter hundreds of wounded, dumbstricken, white-faced men and women—fleeing from an unknown danger."

It was a reporter for The Associated Press who was an eye witness of today's explosion in New York's financial district, who thus described the scene.

"I was just turning into Wall Street from Broadway," he said, "when I first felt, rather than heard the explosion. A concussion similar to that experienced by passenger on a subway when a train dashes into one of the under-river tubes was felt. Its force was sufficient to all but throw me off my balance. Instantly following the concussion came a sharp resounding crash which shook to their foundations the 'monster' buildings facing either side of Wall street. With the roar of the blast came the rattle of falling glass and from the junction of Wall, Nassau and Broad streets—a block distant—screams of injured men and women."

"I dodged into a convenient doorway to escape falling glass and to reach a telephone and call the office. Looking down Wall street later I could see arising from the debris of the sub-treasury building and the J. P. Morgan & Co. bank a mushroom shaped cloud of yellowish, green smoke which mounted to a height of more than 100 feet. The smoke liked by darting tongues of flame."

"I reached the scene a few moments after the explosion. The smoke had partially cleared in the street but in the Morgan building there was belching forth thru the broken windows clouds of dust and white vapor. In the street an overturned automobile was blazing furiously and nearby, close to the body of a dead horse, was another fire, evidently from a pile of wreckage."

"Almost in front of the steps leading up to the Morgan bank was the mutilated body of a man. Other bodies, most of them silent in death, lay near by. As I gazed, horror stricken at the sight, one of these forms, half naked, and seared with burns, started to rise. It struggled, then toppled and fell lifeless into the gutter."

"On the opposite side of the street were other forms. One of them was that of a young woman, her clothing torn and burned away. It was moving—not in an effort to rise, but in the agony of death. I started toward her—but as I did, she became still. Glancing down I saw that the pavement was stained red. In plain sight within a radius of thirty to fifty feet were nine lifeless forms."

"The body of the dead horse in the middle of the street showed plain evidence of having been in very close proximity to the scene of the blast. It was literally torn to pieces."

"The windows of the Morgan building were blown out and thru the openings could be seen the smoke-blackened interior of what, but a few moments ago, had been one of the handsomest banking rooms in the city. Opposite the entrance to the sub-treasury, white exterior of the Sub-Treasury Annex was battered and torn as if it had been subjected

This is the first authority for the sale to foreign account of American ships, granted by the board under the terms of the new merchant marine act.

RESIGNATION OF FRENCH PRESIDENT HAS BEEN TENDERED

M. Millerand Seems Likely to be Elected to Office

DESCHANEL IN PUBLIC LIFE FORTY FIVE YEARS

PARIS, Sept. 16.—The resignation of Paul Deschanel, president of France, today resulted in much discussion tonight as to his successor.

The name of Millerand is uppermost, despite the premier's emphatic statement that he would not accept the presidency.

M. Millerand has mentioned M. Jonnart as a candidate whom he would ask his followers to elect.

It is considered, however, that Millerand will have a hard fight to avoid nomination.

Committees have been formed for the purpose formally of informing the premier that he has been chosen as the country's candidate. In these committees all parties except the unified Socialists have joined.

M. Millerand's interview with President Deschanel at Rambouillet today was pathetic. The president replied to M. Millerand's encouraging and soothing remarks with a discouraged shrug of the shoulders, saying in a tone of infinite sadness:

"I know it is all over."

The boom for a military president, either Marshal Foch or General DeCastellau apparently has died out.

Many Years of Public Life

The resignation of M. Paul Deschanel comes at the end of almost 45 years of active political life during which period he rose from a cabinet officer's secretary to the presidency of the chamber of deputies and finally to the post of chief citizen of France.

Considered one of the nation's most brilliant speakers, he presided with only short periods of interruption over the deliberations of the lower house for twenty years. Less than five months after he was elected president in the early morning of May 24, M. Deschanel fell from a moving train while enroute from Paris to Mont Brvon to dedicate a monument. The president was thrown thru a window which he was attempting to open. He was found in a dazed condition clad in pajamas by a track walker.

M. Deschanel was taken back to Paris where his injuries were officially reported as "superficial wounds in the face and left leg and general prostration."

Failing to recover fully, several months later on the advice of physicians he relinquished his active duties and retired to Normandy for a brief rest. He returned to Paris last June and for a time it was believed he would be able to bear the full responsibilities of his office, but soon there were rumors of a general nervous breakdown with accompanying reports of his intended resignation.

DELEGATE IS DENIED SEAT

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 16.—With one delegate denied a seat on the charge that he had "by words and actions expressed sympathy with the I. W. W. and 'one big union' agitators," the annual convention of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders and Helpers of America, marked time here today while its credentials committee scrutinized the records of several other delegates accused of anti-Americanism. No business may be transacted by the convention until the credentials committee has reported.

The delegate denied a seat, is John McKelvey, representing a Seattle, Washington, local union. The action was the first taken as a result of a campaign announced by brotherhood leaders to eliminate from the membership of alleged un-American tendencies.

HUNGER STRIKERS GROWING WEAKER

The prison physicians reported that their restlessness was more marked and that there was a gradual falling in their pulses.

KRAMER DECLARES DRY MACHINERY IS INADEQUATE

Drys Claim Conspiracy Exists to Overthrow Prohibition

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE IN CONGRESSIONAL FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Declaration was made today by prohibition Commissioner Kramer that dry law enforcement machinery is inadequate.

Coupled with this was a statement by the Anti-Saloon league that the nation is confronted by a gigantic and vicious conspiracy to overthrow prohibition.

The Anti-Saloon League embodied its conspiracy charges in a resolution which served notice that it would attempt removal of public officials derelict in prohibition enforcement. At the same time, officials of the league made public a partial list of candidates for congress whom it will seek to defeat because of their position on prohibition.

The league in its campaign for a continued dry majority in congress will support Senator Watson, Republican, against Thomas Taggart, Democrat, in the Indiana senatorial contest and Frank B. Willis, Republican, in the Ohio senatorial race. Included among the present members of the house selected by the league as the object of its attack, the list showed Representative Porter, Pennsylvania, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee.

COAL MINE STRIKE IS THE CAUSE OF ALLEGED SHOOTING

Coal Miner Manager and Two Officers are Killed

JASPER, Ala., Sept. 16.—M. A. Adler, general manager of the Corona Coal company was shot and instantly killed today and Deputy Sheriffs Edgel and Brown traveling with him in an automobile were wounded so seriously that both died later. The shooting is considered the outgrowth of the coal mine strike which has been in progress in Alabama for ten days and after the killings, Sheriff Clark Guthrie of Walker county called upon Governor Kilby for troops.

Late tonight the sheriff announced that he had been informed that the state forces would begin arriving at the mining camps tomorrow morning. Adler and his party were all shot from ambush, authorities say.

WILL RECOMMEND RETURN OF MINERS

Present Situation Act of Unthinking Men—Will be for Reopening of Wage Negotiations as Soon as Men are at Work.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 16.—The policy committee of the United Miners Workers announced late today it would issue a proclamation recommending and advising all anthracite miners to return to work immediately.

Claiming that the present situation in the anthracite coal region is the result of the unwise action of a few unthinking men, the committee urged "all loyal union men return to their work and vindicate their faithfulness to contracts and the justice of our cause."

As soon as work is resumed throughout the hard coal region, the policy committee will proceed to Washington and attempt to obtain a re-opening of the wage negotiations and the award of the presidential coal commission.

DISCUSS PROBLEMS OF PRINTING TRADE

FORMER MEMBER OF LEGISLATURE DIES

Macomb, Ill., Sept. 16.—John Houson, former member of the state legislature from the 32nd district, died today of heart trouble at age 64. He was president of the Houston Banking company of Blandinsville and one of the best known men in Western Illinois. He retired from the legislature in 1916 and has not taken an active part in political affairs since.

Over Four Thousand Votes in Lead With 726 Precincts Still Missing—Clerical Error Takes Five Thousand From Smith—Small Still Leading Oglesby by Over 13,000

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Returns early this morning from Wednesday's primary were still inconclusive in the contest of the Republicans for the gubernatorial and senatorial nominations and for the Democratic senatorial honors.

With 726 precincts still missing, William B. McKinley, Lowden candidate, had a lead of 5,549 votes over Frank L. Smith, the candidate supported by Mayor Thompson of Chicago, while with 691 precincts missing out of the 5,737 in the state, Len Small, Thompson candidate for the gubernatorial nomination had a lead of 13,939 over Lieutenant Governor John G. Oglesby, the Lowden candidate.

Congressman McKinley's votes kept mounting today with further returns from downstate until he was within 3,000 of overwhelming Smith.

McKinley Takes Lead.

Then the tabulators of the Chicago returns discovered that a clerical error had given Smith 7,000 women's votes in the 7th Ward, the clerk having mistaken a 2 for the 7. This loss of 5,000 put McKinley in the lead and further reports from downstate added to the gains. With 447 precincts to hear from outside Chicago, McKinley had 324,884 votes and Smith with 279 Chicago precincts unrecorded had 317,335.

Smith had an average of 31 votes to the precinct in Chicago for the 2,194 precincts reported while McKinley had an average plurality of 26 to the precinct for the 2,852 polls recorded outside Cook county.

Small had an average lead in Chicago of 40 to the precinct with 279 polling places to hear from, while Oglesby had an average lead downstate of 26 to the precinct with 691 polls to be tabulated.

Robert E. Burke and Peter Walker were still running neck and neck for the Democratic senatorial nomination. The outcome in all these three races will have to await a full count of the votes, and an official canvass may be necessary.

Story of Explosion Told By Eye Witness

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—(By The Associated Press.)—"It was a crash out of a blue sky—an unexpected dealing bolt, which in a twinkling turned into a shambles the busiest corner of America's financial center and sent scurrying to places of shelter hundreds of wounded, dumb-stricken, white-faced men and women—fleeing from an unknown danger."

It was a reporter for The Associated Press who was an eye witness of today's explosion in New York's financial district, who thus described the scene.

"I was just turning into Wall street from Broadway," he said, "when I first felt, rather than heard the explosion. A concussion similar to that experienced by passenger on a subway when a train dashes into one of the under-river tubes was felt. Its force was sufficient to all but throw me off my balance. Instantly following the concussion came a sharp resounding crash which shook to their foundations the monster buildings facing either side of Wall street. With the roar of the blast came the rattle of falling glass and from the junction of Wall, Nassau and Broad streets—a block distant—screeams of injured men and women."

"I dodged into a convenient doorway to escape falling glass and to reach a telephone and call the office. Looking down Wall street later I could see arising from the vicinity of the sub-treasury building and the J. P. Morgan & Co. bank a mushroom shaped cloud of yellowish, green smoke which mounted to a height of more than 100 feet. The smoke liked by darting tongues of flame."

"I reached the scene a few moments after the explosion. The smoke had partially cleared in the street but in the Morgan building exposed, the debris from the broken windows clouds of dust and white vapor. In the street an overturned automobile was blazing furiously and nearby, close to the body of a dead horse, was another fire, evidently from a pile of wreckage."

"Almost in front of the steps leading up to the Morgan bank was the mutilated body of a man. Other bodies, most of them silent in death, lay near by. As I gazed, horror-stricken at the sight, one of these forms, half naked, and snared with burns, started to rise. It struggled, then toppled and fell lifeless into the gutter."

"On the opposite side of the street were other forms. One of them was that of a young woman, her clothing torn and burned away. It was moving—not in an effort to rise, but in the agony of death. I started toward her—but as I did, she became still. Glancing down I saw that the pavement was stained red. In plain sight within a radius of thirty to fifty feet were nine lifeless forms."

"The body of the dead horse in the middle of the street showed plain evidence of having been in very close proximity to the scene of the blast. It was literally torn to pieces."

"The windows of the Morgan building were blown out and thru the openings could be seen the smoke-blackened interior of what had been a magnificent room, had been one of the handsomest banking rooms in the city. Opposite the entrance to the bank completed, white exterior of the Sub-Treasury Annex was battered and torn as if it had been subjected

Deschanel, president of France, is about to resign because of ill health. The reports say that within 48 hours after this action a new president of the French republic will be chosen. Perhaps that is a better way than the eight or ten months' campaign plan that citizens of the U. S. follow. After all, there is a good deal of educational value that develops during a national campaign in the U. S.

Director Adkins says that from this year forth, Illinois will have available an annual report of farm census facts. The announcement conveys the impression that the publication of these facts will be of immense value to the farmers. An immense amount of complaint has been made in the past about the reliability of government statistics relating to farms. Let us hope that the Illinois figures will set a new record.

Economists and the public generally are evincing a lively interest in that paragraph of Senator Harding's speech of acceptance in which he declared it to be the duty of the government to make "its Liberty and Victory bonds worth all that its patriotic citizens paid in purchasing them." Inasmuch as there are outstanding at the present time approximately $20,000,000,000 worth of those securities, estimated to be in the hands of about 10,000,000 of our citizens, it is apparent that our suggestion to restore the $2,000,000,000 of sales they have lost through depreciation of the market commands the immediate attention of a vast number of people.

There is cause for some gratification even in the present unsatisfactory condition of the railroad business. The records show that in recent weeks the railroads have done a record business. Still the car shortage has grown more acute and there is still annoyance from freight congestion. These unsatisfactory conditions go to prove that there is no decline of general business in the U. S. and that on the contrary a very heavy amount of business is being done practically along all lines.

Jacksonville's new band has been organized less than a month but there was nothing in the way these musicians played yesterday to indicate that fact. Most of these band men have had years of training and the securing of uniforms is about all that remains to accomplish before Jacksonville again has a strong and creditable musical organization.

DANGEROUS TEETH.
Now the docs, those wise old cheeses, say our teeth should all come out, for they cause all our diseases, from the measles to the gout. Once my teeth like pearls were gleaming and I viewed the same with pride, as I chewed the sirloin steaming, with potatoes on the side. Now my teeth are all departed and no hope on earth I see, though the dentist says he's started on a bakelite set for me. I had cello in Toronto, and the doctor said, "You must see a dentist, pronto, who will pull out molars three." I had measles in Hoboken, and the doctor said, "You gink, all your symptoms are a token that your teeth are on the blink." And my whiskers, in Empory, fell and fell, and soon were gone, and it was the same old story—twas because no teeth were drawn. Passed around by stern physicians from one dentist to the next, I am filled with vain ambitions and my soul is sore perplex. Now that all my teeth are missing what resource is there for me, when some new disease goes hissing through my shoulder or my knee? When I'm sore in bone or tissue, chafed from carrying my wraith, how will doctors dodge the issue, when they can't blame my teeth?

An interesting feature of the program was a debate upon the question, "Resolved, that a non-missionary Church in a non-Christian Church." Miss Ethel Shortridge was the speaker for the affirmative, and Mrs. May Hitt for the negative. The judges decided in favor of the negative speaker.

DANGEROUS TEETH.

Now the docs, those wise old cheeesees, say our teeth should all come out, for they cause all our diseases, from the measles to the gout. Once my teeth like pearls were gleaming and I viewed the same with pride, as I chewed the sirloin steaming, with potatoes on the side. Now my teeth are all departed and no hope on earth I see, though the dentist says he's started on a bakelite set for me. I had come in Toronto, and the doctor said, said he, "You must see a dentist, pronto, who will pull out molars three." I had measles in Hoboken, and the doctor said, "You gink, all your symptoms are a token that your teeth are on the blink." And my whiskers, in Empory, fell and fell, and soon were gone, and it was the same old story—'twas because no teeth were drawn. Passed around by stern physicians from one dentist to the next, I am filled with vain ambitions and my soul is sore perplexed. Now that all my teeth are missing what resource is there for me, when some new disease goes hissing through my shoulder or my knee? When I'm sore in bone or tissue, chafed from carrying my wraith, how woe doctors dodge the issue, when they cannot blame my teeth?

Warning !!

Persons with cracked lips are cautioned to avoid Scott's Theatre Friday and Saturday. The management positively refuses to take the responsibility for either split lips or side aches that come with a vision of Destiny's child to uplift bootlegging, aided by a chorus of chickens (feathered) so tough they eat dynamite, rambling through life on the farm, love scenes in the old cow plot and a career on the rock pile. You'll cross your heart and say that you never laughed so much or saw a funnier film frolic on the screen than "The Twilight Baby." Its latest "blues buster," and as "The Twilight Baby" succeeds wonderfully well in doing the wrong thing just at the right time—the right time to catch you coming out of one fit of laughter and send you back into another one of those rib-tickling comedies that brought forth the slogan "laugh" and "The Twilight Baby" makes you laugh whether you want to or not.

Boudoir talks with Sybel on the merits of cocoa butter for facial massage

After a glimpse of Sybel's pink and white complexion you can just imagine how I drank in every word of the lesson she gave me in facial massage.

"We're really as dirty as little street urchins, honey, only we take the outer layer off. Dust and dirt seek the pores of the skin and stuff them up so they can't breathe. We ought to shampoo our face at least twice a week to retain our natural bloom. I can just see mother's French maid, Nanette, using cocoa butter, a wonderful skin food, to keep mother's face soft and youthful. I use only Coco-Bloom—a cocoa butter cream that contains the purest of beneficial ingredients. "Dab it on and rub it in thoroughly. Begin at the chin and rub carefully using a rotary motion. Rub around the eyes—that keeps them from looking tired. Chase the frown wrinkles away by rubbing towards the temples. Since your facial muscles are bound to sag after you've passed girlhood days—tap the chin and cheeks to strengthen them. "Then wipe the Coco-Bloom off with a coarse towel and always apply hot towels to clean the pores followed by cold ones to close them—with a dash of witch hazel as an astringent. "Coco-Bloom applied each night to cleanse the face with a wee bit of massage keeps the skin clear and just like velvet. "Remember, Coco-Bloom is one better cream, and it supplies exactly what is needed to make your skin healthy."

CONSTITUTION IS WARP AND WOOF OF NATION'S EXISTENCE

"A statute rests upon the delegated authority of a small official group, but the constitution is the direct fiat of all the people. It is their mandate—expressing not their wishes, but their will—fixing the immutable boundaries of power beyond which their servants who administer their government are forbidden to go. It is declared to be the supreme law of the land, with which every other official act must coincide or fall."
"It is an everlasting proclamation of the right of the people to speak as the sovereign power of the nation, whose body and soul they are, for, does it not begin with the imperial words: 'We, the people of the United States—do ordain and establish this constitution for the United States of America.'

"If by some tragic dispensation of fate this constitution should cease to be, the door would no longer be closed against the stealthy application of autocratic power, and the gradual absorption of the people's sovereignty."
"Makes For Self-Government."
"So long as it endures the people will never have a master, but will rule themselves, subject to no compelling force but their own authority and the will of God."
"Whether it shall endure will be for the men and women of America to determine. Respect for it, reverence for it, is not enough. They must take hold of its meaning, penetrate its spirit, cleave to its principles, confound its enemies. More dangerous than open repudiation is insidious subversion."
"Our people must set themselves to the task of ending the

to a bombardment of machine gun fire. The doorway with its massive steel grill work was shattered and the stone surrounding the door cracked and battered away.
Police Hold Back Crowd
"By this time the crowd was pressing in, held in check by the hastily gathering policemen. At the doorway of the Morgan bank was a uniformed guard, apparently half dazed, but sticking to his post and holding back those who sought to enter the structure. The crowd was strangely quiet—over it seemed to hang a feeling of awe and horror. At the commands of the police it moved and fell back silently. On the steps of old Sub-Treasury building—the spot where years ago stirring scenes connected with the American Revolution were enacted—stands a statue of George Washington. Looking down from its pedestal between the massive granite columns, scarred by missiles from the explosion, the outstretched hands of the Father of His Country seemed to carry a silent command to be calm."
"Then came the ambulances. Nearby trucks and automobiles were first pressed into service. Volunteers, heeding not blood-be-mattered hands and clothing tenderly lifted into the vehicles the bodies of the dying and the dead. The dead that remained for additional conveyances were charitably hidden from sight by coverings torn from awnings or by robes from arriving motor cars."
"It was such a scene as I had pictured as a possibility during the war should the enemy succeed in dropping on the financial district one of his deadly aerial bombs."

CONSTITUTION IS WARP AND WOOF OF NATION'S EXISTENCE

"It is an everlasting proclamation of the right of the people to speak as the sovereign power of the nation, whose body and soul they are, for, does it not begin with the imperial words: 'We, the people of the United States—do ordain and establish this 'constitution for the United States of America.'"

"If by some tragic dispensation of fate this constitution should cease to be, the door would no longer be closed against the stealthy application of autocratic power, and the gradual absorption of the people's sovereignty."

Makes For Self-Government.
"So long as it endures the people will never have a master, but will rule themselves, subject to no compelling force but their own authority and the will of God."

"Whether it shall endure will be for the men and women of America to determine. Respect for it, reverence for it, is not enough. They must take hold of its meaning, penetrate its spirit, cleave to its principles, confound its enemies. More dangerous than open repudiation is insidious subversion."

"Our people must set themselves to the task of ending the

GREAT CROWD SAW CORNER STONE LAID

IMPOSING CEREMONIAL AT HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

Masonic Organization Had Charge of Formal Ceremony—Well Known Citizens Joined in Making Occasion Very Impressive.

With very imposing ceremonies the cornerstone of the new high school building was laid Wednesday afternoon. The stone was laid under the supervision of the grand masonic lodge of Illinois, this organization co-operating with the board of education in the arrangements for the afternoon.

The committee which represented the board included J. P. Lippincott, president and Charles Fiedler, secretary of the board of education; H. A. Perrin, superintendent of schools; Dr. Carl E. Black was the chairman of the afternoon.

Jacksonville's newly organized band under the leadership of J. Bart Johnson preceded the masonic bodies in their march from the temple to the building. In addition to the local masonic lodges there were representatives present from a number of other lodges in surrounding territory. Isaac Cutter of Camp Point, grand secretary of Masonic bodies, came to Jacksonville to preside instead of Grand Master Fitzgerald who was unable to be present. B. S. Beid of Dwight, grand marshal, assisted and others who appeared for grand lodge officers were G. T. Wetzel, grand chaplain; J. S. Hackett, grand treasurer; Carl Richards, grand secretary; J. H. Dial, grand senior warden; H. C. Goebel, grand junior warden; O. E. Tandy, deputy grand master; T. J. Strong, chief architect.

After the box had been placed within the cornerstone artisans lowered the stone into its proper place, after which the imposing ceremonial of the masonic order was carried out. Rev. W. E. Collins led the large assemblage in the singing of America.

Mrs. Helen Brown Read always a popular favorite in Jacksonville, with Willard Wesner accompanying on the piano, sang with fine effect the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the audience uniting in the chorus.

The chair then introduced Mayor E. E. Crabtree, who offered greetings from the city. Of his remarks and those of all the other speakers only a very brief outline is given.

New Era in Local History.

"This grand occasion today notes a new era in the history of Jacksonville. Many of you who are older than I can well remember the modest buildings and other facilities which were devoted years ago to the education of the young. They were good for the time but we are a people of progress and I feel that this splendid edifice is a fine token of the efforts of the board of education, both past and present members and the City of Jacksonville owes them a lasting debt of gratitude for the unselfish labor they have performed and the fine results they have achieved.

"Education is an indispensable part of the life preparation of the rising generation and this building well testifies to the fact that the people of Jacksonville are willing to do so much in that line for the young people in their midst."

The chairman then said it was fitting that greetings should be received from other educational institutions and he called on President C. H. Rammelkamp of Illinois College, who said:

Dr. Rammelkamp Speaks. "I truly regard it an honor to participate in the exercises today. Away back in the early history of Illinois College two young men were working their way thru the institution and when the end of the year was but weeks away they took an account of stock and found they had just 49 cents between them. Of course this would not buy any luxuries, and so they invested the sum in corn meal and for two weeks lived on mush and they didn't beg. One of those men rose to distinction and I understand his name is to be over the main front door of this building. He was Newton Bateman. The state, the nation and even the world owes much to him. For many years an educator and state superintendent of Public Instruction, he did much for the country. It was on this very spot that he conducted successfully a school in which many eminent persons received their first rudiments of education and so today, representing Illinois College, one of the oldest in the middle West, I bring you cordial greetings and assurances of good will and hope for harmonious co-operation."

Woman's College Greetings.

From the Illinois Woman's College came Dr. J. R. Harker, who said in closing "I would like to write over the doorway of this and every other High School, these words, 'The entrance to success in life, the gateway to the royal road to leadership.' It is becoming more and more evident that no young man or woman can hope for success in any department of life's activities without passing thru the High School courses, and all experience is now proving that leadership in any line of the world's activities will be secured only by those who avail themselves of High School opportunities."

"The call is loud and insistent to every boy and girl to enter thru this gate. It is encouraging to know that here in Jacksonville, as everywhere else, the number increases every year. A few years ago the total attendance in the High School was only between two and three hundred; now it is almost double that number. In a few years it will be doubled again, and I confidently predict that, large as is the vision of the Board of Education of the Jacksonville schools, even the provision they are now making will be found to be inadequate within the next twenty years, and this magnificent group of buildings on the ground will be extended at least to Prairie Street, on the west."

"As the representative, then, of the Illinois Woman's College, of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal church, and of the Federation of Illinois Colleges, I bring cordial greetings, and predictions of a still greater educational advance for the public school system of Jacksonville than it has ever yet seen."

The chairman then introduced Rev. M. L. Pontius, president of the Rotary Club, who said in brief: "This is truly a grand occasion. The organization which I represent here today has for its catchword, a wheel whose spokes are made up of noble aims and enterprising objects. Without an education a young person is seriously handicapped in the journey of life. We must educate or perish. The great danger to our commonwealth lies in the bolshevism, not in the soviet, not in the I. W. W., but in ignorance. We have grand opportunities and must know how to use them. Russia had boundless resources but her people were steeped in ignorance."

Must Not Forget Moral Side.

"Then we must not forget the moral side of education. We must inculcate good, upright, reverential character in the rising generation. I do not so much care for a perfunctory reading of a portion of scripture—each day in school as I care for the character of the teachers. Are they persons whose acts are guided by the principles of the Sermon on the Mount? Are they persons to whom we can safely commit the education of our children at a peculiarly formative period of life? This question is one of great importance."

For the Chamber of Commerce the chairman introduced its president Henry Frisch, who said in part: "This is an occasion truly calculated to fill with honest pride the heart of every resident of Jacksonville in general and doubly so of every one who has children to be educated. What were our young people worth without education? The demands of today are exacting. To hold many positions an education is all important. As a business asset our educational institutions are among the most valuable, if not the most valuable possessed by the city. The various institutions attract here many who live with us to our benefit. The high school lays a superb foundation for the life preparation of any young man or woman from a business standpoint, our schools are of untold benefit."

Supt. Perrin spoke very briefly, summing up what a high school means to a community and referring to some facts in the general educational system. Julian P. Lippincott as president of the board of education traced the development of the laws thru several decades which have brought about the development of high school education in the state of Illinois.

Dr. Black laid emphasis upon the thought that the new high school represents the progressive educational sentiment and the generosity of the people. He said that without the support of the board of education could have done nothing.

The chairman gave the general figures to show that the completed building will represent an expenditure of about $481,000. He said that the people had reason for satisfaction in remembering that they have authorized and made possible these expenditures even in times when under some other financial strain. The approximate costs will be: Boiler house, $25,000; General contract $350,000; Ventilating system, $50,000; Furnishings, $50,000. The ceremony closed with the benediction by the Rev. D. V. Gowdy.

GREAT CROWD SAW CORNER STONE LAID

IMPOSING CEREMONIAL AT HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

Masonic Organization Had Charge of Formal Ceremony—Well Known Citizens Joined in Making Occasion Very Impressive.

With very imposing ceremonies the cornerstone of the new high school building was laid Wednesday afternoon. The stone was laid under the supervision of the grand master lodge of Illinois, this organization co-operating with the board of education in the arrangements for the afternoon.

The committee which represented the board included J. P. Lippincott, president and Charles Fiedler, secretary of the board of education; H. A. Perrin, superintendent of schools, Dr. Carl E. Black was the chairman of the afternoon.

Jacksonville's newly organized band under the leadership of J. Bart Johnson preceded the Masonic bodies in their march from the temple to the building. In addition to the local Masonic lodges there were representatives present from a number of other lodges in surrounding territory. Isaac Cutler of Camp Point, grand secretary of Masonic bodies, came to Jacksonville to preside instead of Grand Master Fitzgerald who was unable to be present. B. S. Boyd of Dwight, grand marshal, assisted and others who appeared for grand lodge officers were G. T. Wetzel, grand treasurer; Carl Richards, grand secretary; J. H. Dial, grand senior warden; H. C. Goebel, grand junior warden; O. E. Tandy, deputy grand master; T. J. Strong, chief architect.

After the box had been placed within the cornerstone artisans lowered the stone into its proper place, after which the imposing ceremonial of the Masonic order was carried out. Rev. W. E. Collins led the large assemblage in the singing of America.

Mrs. Helen Brown Read always a popular favorite in Jacksonville, with Willard Wesner accompanying on the piano, sang with fine effect the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," the audience uniting in the chorus.

The chair then introduced Mayor E. E. Crabtree, who offered greetings from the city. Of his remarks and those of all the other speakers only a very brief outline is given:

New Era in Local History.
"This grand occasion today marks a new era in the history of Jacksonville. Many of you who are older than I can well remember the modest buildings and other facilities which were devoted years ago to the education of the young. They were good for the time but we are a people of progress and I feel that this splendid edifice is a fine token of the efforts of the board of education, both past and present members and the City of Jacksonville owes them a lasting debt of gratitude for the unselfish labor they have performed and the fine results they have achieved.

"Education is as indispensable part of the life preparation of the rising generation and this building well testifies to the fact that the people of Jacksonville are willing to do so much in that line for the young people in their midst."

The chairman then said it was fitting that greetings should be received from other educational institutions and he called on President C. H. Rammekamp of Illinois College, who said:

Dr. Rammekamp Speaks.
"I truly regard it an honor to participate in the exercises today. Away back in the early history of Illinois College two young men were working their way thru the institution and when the end of the year was but weeks away they took an account of stock and found they had just 49 cents between them. Of course this would not buy any luxuries and so they invested the sum in corn meal and for two weeks lived on mush and they didn't beg. One of those men rose to distinction and I understand his name is to be over the main front door of this building. He was Newton Bateman. The state of the nation and even the world owes much to him. For many years an educator and state superintendent of Public Instruction, he did much for the country. It was on this very spot that he conducted successfully a school in which many eminent persons received their first rudiments of education and so today, representing Illinois College, one of the oldest in the middle West, I bring you cordial greetings and assurances of good will and hope for harmonious co-operation."

Woman's College Greetings.
From the Illinois Woman's College came Dr. J. R. Harker, who said that he would like to write over the doorway of this and every other High School, these words, "The entrance to success in life, the gateway to the royal road to leadership." It is becoming more and more evident that no young man or woman can hope for success in any department of life's activities without passing thru the High School courses, and all experience is now proving that leadership in any line of the world's activities will be secured only by those who avail themselves of High School opportunities.

"The call is loud and insistent to every boy and girl to enter thru this gate. It is encouraging to know that here in Jacksonville, as everywhere else, the number increases every year. A few years ago the total attendance in the High School was only between two and three hundred; now it is almost double that number; in a few years it will be doubled again, and I confidently predict that, large as is the vision of the Board of Education of the Jacksonville schools, even the provision they are now making will be found to be inadequate within the next twenty years, and this magnificent group of buildings on this ground will be extended at least to Prairie Street, on the west.

"As the representative, then, of the Illinois Woman's College, of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal church, and of the Federation of Illinois Colleges, I bring cordial greetings, and predictions of a still greater educational advance for the public school system of Jacksonville than it has ever yet seen."

The chairman then introduced Rev. M. L. Pontius, president of the Rotary Club, who said in brief: "This is truly a grand occasion. The organization which I represent here today has for its eschaton, a wheel whose spokes are made up of noble aims and enterprising objects. Without an education a young person is seriously handicapped in the journey of life. We must educate or perish. The great danger to our commonwealth lies not in the bolshevist, not in the soviet, not in the I. W. W., but in ignorance. We have grand opportunities and must know how to use them. Russia had boundless resources but her people were steeped in ignorance.

Must Not Forget Moral Side.
"Then we must not forget the moral side of education. We must inculcate good, upright, reverential character in the rising generation. I do not so much care for a perfunctory reading of a portion of scripture—each day in school as I care for the character of the teachers. Are they persons whose acts are guided by the principles of the Sermon on the Mount? Are they persons to whom we can safely commit the education of our children at a peculiarly formative period of life? This question is one of great importance."

For the Chamber of Commerce the chairman introduced its president Henry Frisch, who said in part: "This is an occasion truly calculated to fill with honest pride the heart of every resident of Jacksonville in general and doubly so of every one who has children to be educated. What were our young people worth without education? The demands of today are exacting. To hold many positions an education is all important. As a business asset our educational institutions are among the most valuable, if not the most valuable possessed by the city. The various institutions attract here many who live with us to our benefit. The high school lays a superb foundation for the life preparation of any young man or woman from a business standpoint our schools are of untold benefit."

Supt. Perrin spoke very briefly, summing up what a high school means to a community and referring to some facts in the general educational system. Julian P. Lippincott as president of the board of education traced the development of the laws thru several decades which have brought about the development of high school education in the state of Illinois.

The chairman gave the general figures to show that the completed building will represent an expenditure of about $481,000. He said that the people had reason for satisfaction in remembering that they have authorized and made possible these expenditures even in times when under some other financial strain. The approximate costs will be: Boiler house, $25,000; General contract, $55,000; Ventilating system, $55,000; Furnishings, $55,000. The ceremony closed with the benediction by the Rev. D. V. As a part of the evening program Homer Wood sang a solo and the address of welcome was given by Mayor E. E. Crabtree. Afterward Dr. L. H. Clampt presented an historical sketch of the lodge.

She is survived by her husband, Michael Curtin at Carrollton, and four sisters, Mrs. Margaret Cronin of Carrollton, Mrs. M. L. McMeroy of Sedalia, Mo.; Mrs. Katherine Crowley of St. Louis and Miss Alice Brooks of St. Louis.

GOOD ROADS BOOSTERS VISITORS IN CITY

Banquet Given to Honor Delegates to Mississippi Valley Highway Convention.

Fifteen automobile loads of delegates to the Mississippi Valley Highway association convention at St. Paul arrived in Jacksonville at 6 o'clock Thursday night. The autoists made up a party which left St. Louis Thursday morning and will be joined by other delegates between this city and St. Paul.

The visitors, together with others from nearby territory, were guests at a dinner given at Central Christian church by the Morgan County Highway association. The occasion was planned not only to extend courtesy to the visitors but also as a booster meeting for the good roads movement. The banquet was a great success and was one of the most largely attended affairs of the kind ever given in Morgan county. There were approximately 250 persons present and the dinner was of the splendid kind that the Pastoral Helpers of the Christian church know how to serve.

Vincent Riley, president of the Morgan County Highway association, introduced Mayor E. E. Crabtree as toastmaster of the occasion. Mr. Crabtree in an appropriate way extended a cordial welcome to the visitors.

The Burlington Way

Response was made by A. E. Nissen, of Iowa City, Iowa, director of the Mississippi Valley Highway association. Mr. Nissen told of Jacksonville's part in helping put the Burlington Way movement over the top and later the Mississippi Valley Highway movement. He emphasized the idea that all tourists would carry a shovel to improve the highways instead of a hammer.

Mr. Nissen also spoke of Carl H. Weber's activities in the work. Mr. Weber was present at the first meeting in 1915 and was elected Secretary. In 1916 and 1917 was elected president, and is now being talked of for the office again next year after his service in the World War. Mr. Weber has been present at every convention held, except when he was in France and Mr. Nissen spoke of him as the most popular and best loved official along the Mississippi Valley highway.

Good Roads Now.

The P. Joseph M. Page, of Jerseyville, Ill., a member of the state advisory board and director of the Mississippi Valley Highway, emphasized the point that there was sixty million dollars to be spent in improving the highways in Illinois, but we would have to wake up and get busy if we wanted any of the money to be spent around Jacksonville.

Mrs. S. A. McKelvey of Sparta, Ill., said that we must not wait for hard surfaced roads before improving them but must start right away and drag and beautify them.

Other speakers and singers that had part in the program were: J. Kelley Smith of Clinton, Ky.; Robert Badoir, Mayor of Covington, La.; M. T. Sharp, Corinth, Miss.; Edwin H. White, Springfield, Ill.; D. C. Wren, Martin, Tenn.; H. H. Baucroft, Jacksonville; Clayton Quast of the Conservatory of Music gave a vocal solo with fine effect.

The meeting was closed by Carl H. Weber with an invitation to join the "bunch" either this year or next for the annual convention.

The visitors will leave promptly on scheduled time, 8:00 o'clock this morning after meeting in front of the Dunlap hotel.

Cared for Cars. L. F. O'Donnell had general charge of the cars of the visitors. The cars were cared for at the following garages: C. N. Priest, Joy Bros., Cherry's Service Station, J. P. Claus, Charles M. Strawn, Berger Motor Co., O'Donnell Motor Co.

Hear the free lecture on Christian Science at Grand Theatre Tuesday night, Sept. 21, at 8 o'clock.

PRIVATE HAIGH'S FUNERAL THURSDAY

Was Buried With Military Honors—Members of American Legion Carried Out Military Service.

Funeral services for Private Edward Haigh, who met death while in service in France, were held from the Reynold's chapel at 4:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The chapel was completely filled for the services. Private Haigh in compliance with the desire of his family, was buried with full military honors, this part of the service being in charge of members of Jacksonville Post 279 American Legion.

Rev. J. F. Langton conducted the funeral service for the dead of the Episcopal church. The Legion service was then carried out at the chapel in charge of Chaplain W. H. Marbach and Commander Rowe, who also had charge of the services at the grave.

It was expected to have the new Jacksonville band to lead the funeral cortege. However, owing to the lateness of the corner stone exercise at the high school the band was unable to reach the chapel in time to take part.

The cortege moved east from the chapel in West State street to the square, south and east around the square to South Main street, South on that street to Michigan avenue and thence to Diamond Grove cemetery.

The casket was mounted on a caisson which was in charge of William Peters. Directly behind the caisson marched G. C. Mathias, Lee Powers and James Bisbee, of Chicago former "buddies" of the dead soldier.

The bearers were: Lieutenant Alexander, A. B. Applebee, O. P. Fox, Huston Cowser, H. E. Streuberg and H. Segner.

Allan Jacobs adjutant of Jacksonville Post was in charge of the flowers. The firing squad was in charge of W. T. Harmon and was composed of members of Jacksonville Post American Legion and Harrison A. Dickson Post Veterans of Foreign wars.

WILL CELEBRATE NINETIETH BIRTHDAY

White Hall Citizen Will Observe Anniversary Next Monday—Has Resided in That City for Sixty-four Years.

White, Hall, Sept. 16. — Next Monday, Sept. 20th, is the ninetyeth birthday anniversary of James S. Brooks, a native of Tennessee, who came to Pike county, Ill., in his youth, and since 1856 has resided at White Hall continuously. He is the eldest male resident of White Hall, being one year older than Gilbert S. Vosseller, the spry president of the White Hall National Bank. Mrs. Sarah A. Higbee is the oldest citizen of White Hall, being past 97 years of age, and who has resided here practically all her life. Mrs. Sarah E. Vedder, widow of the late Squire Isaac D. Vedder, is 93 years of age, and author of "Reminiscences of the District of Columbia, 11900-1919."

Married in 1857
In 1857, one year after coming to White Hall, Mr. Brooks and Miss Caroline Reno were married, and there were twelve children, nine of whom survive, as follows: Postmaster Fred A. Brooks, Arlington, Kansas; J. Otis Brooks, White Hall; J. Albert Brooks, Greenville, Ill.; Emma, widow of Dr. J. S. Graves, Inman, Kansas; Mary, wife of C. J. Chapman, Tucson, Ariz.; Lucy, wife of J. V. Nevius, White Hall; A. D. Brooks, Auburn; Archie H. Brooks, St. Louis; Katie, wife of Bert Moore, Hutchinson, Kansas. All these children were born and reared to useful manhood and womanhood in White Hall.

The mother died in 1914. She was a daughter of the late Aaron Reno, one of the first settlers in White Hall, coming here in 1828 and engaging in merchandising. During the forties John G. Nicolay, Lincoln's secretary and noted as Lincoln's biographer, clerk for Mr. Reno. From here Nicolay went to Pittsfield with Joe Pennington, father of Capt. Pennington and formed the acquaintance of John Hay. Nicolay followed Hay to Springfield and became associated with Abraham Lincoln on the recommendation of Hay and Aaron Reno. Nicolay visited White Hall to consult the Reno account books and other data when he undertook the biographical work connected with the life of Lincoln after it became fixed that the memory of Lincoln belonged to the ages. These things are published in this connection because it has never heretofore been clearly published as to Lincoln's connection with the former White Hall grocery clerk. Nicolay came to White Hall as a neighboring country boy when he was only twenty years of age.

Recalls Lost Opportunities
Mr. Brooks became a resident of White Hall when there were only 600 inhabitants. He has witnessed practically the entire history of the town of now about 7,000, recalling many lost opportunities that would have made White Hall a great city, particularly in the loss of the C. & A. terminal to Roodhouse. He says he subscribed $300 from his meagre savings to hold the terminal as it was surveyed to White Hall from the west in 1872, but the progress of financing the demands upon White Hall failed to keep pace with the efforts of a group of farmers on the north, and the town of Roodhouse resulted. This defeat was in the face of admonitions of the late Judge L. E. Worcester of White Hall, then a director of the C. & A. railroad, to hurry matters, but the Roodhouse fellows beat White Hall to it. The survey to White Hall placed the main yards about where the residence of A. J. Barnett on South Main street now stands. The surveyors were quartered at the residence of the late A. D. Ruckel, and Mr. Ruckel has on several occasions recalled the day when President Blackstone ordered the survey changed to Roodhouse, then only a cornfield, and from this decision there was no appeal. As a result there are several good sized towns in this section instead of one large town, as with the acquisition of the railroad terminal White Hall would have secured the county seat and probably the location of several state institutions.

Mr. Brooks, since the death of his wife, has divided his time among his children, all now engaged in the affairs of the world and well to do, and he has been made happy and comfortable by them. He is reminiscent at all times, and recounts the experiences as a merchant, transfer and express man, and his varied political affiliations, the only public office he ever held being that of township collector.

Events leading up to the celebration of his ninetyeth anniversary have been in progress for some time. All the daughters have been here since the first of September. One social event soon after their arrival was at the home of Mrs. E. C. Pearce, at which Mr. Brooks was the guest of honor. All the sons will arrive during the week, and on next Monday there will be one of the grandest family reunions in the history of the Brooks family, the program including a reception to the general public during the afternoon.

Mr. Brooks retains all his faculties, and is active, being about town every day. He will remain in White Hall this winter with his daughter, Mrs. J. V. Nevius, instead of his usual plan of going to Kansas or Arizona for the winter months.

TIME AND LABOR SAVED

Oklahoma City, Okla. — Use of combined headers and threshers in the grain fields of Oklahoma this year cut down the amount of time expended in the harvest as well as the labor cost, according to H. H. Shut, federal statistician here. Mr. Shut stated, however, that he had no figures to show whether the average harvest cost over the state had been reduced in comparison with that of last year.

The average wage paid harvest hands this year was $5.50 a day, compared with $4.50 a day last year, according to figures compiled by Claude E. Connally, state labor commissioner.

NATIONALIZATION OF MEXICAN OIL

Is Advocated by New Secretary of Commerce — Says Government Should Have Control Over Subsoil.

Chicago. — Nationalization of the underground oil of Mexico is thoroughly justified, General J. B. Trevino, secretary of industry, commerce and labor in the Mexican government, declares in the September issue of Petroleum Magazine, published here today.

"Mexico's right to pass laws nationalizing the oil mines in accordance with the socialization of all means of production and distribution which are conducive to uphold the interest of public welfare and the right of the sovereignty of the state to direct domain" is established, writes General Trevino.

"To accuse this law as immoral and unjust," he adds, "is to make war against the law of the land and against the institutions of the government. This war whether waged against Article 27 of the constitution by nationals or by foreigners is anti-patriotic and unjust."

Throughout his article, which is translated from the Spanish, General Trevino argues the law of "direct dominion of the nation over the subsoil." This is the substance of the constitutional provision in question.

"If we consider the true condition of the oil mines and make a deeper study of the situation and grant the ownership of the surface of the land and a perfect vertical delimitation of this land," he writes, "we would find that the owner of the surface may own all the minerals and all the oil directly under his soil but not so under the soil of any of his neighbors. But inasmuch as petroleum lies in large underground lakes or deposits it is impossible to delimit physically these underground reservoirs in accordance with the ownership of the surface of the land."

"It is illogical therefore to argue that these interests have the right to the ownership of these deposits of petroleum in the subsoil of the nation simply because they have made geologic studies and have reared great plants to exploit the mineral resources."

"Mexico endeavoring to enforce the nationalization of the mines, has used in no way any right that might in any sense hurt the rights of acquisition of the owners of the surface of the soil, respecting their right as owners."

General Trevino adds that "neither political science nor political economy nor even jurisprudence has been willing to concede the right of the natural resources of a nation to individual ownership when these resources become the life of that nation. This principle of national ownership must be applied to oil which has a fluid nature and travels in underground rivers which become impossible of physical delimitation."

MAKE LATE APPLICATION FOR WAR BONUS

It is a surprising fact, but true, that some ex-service men have not yet applied for the $60.00 bonus.

Just last week a man who was discharged in June, 1918 because of a disability, came to the Red Cross office to apply for his bonus. He had recently learned that he was entitled to it, although he had been in camp only a few days. If a man was accepted by the local draft board and sent to a camp, he is entitled to the bonus even though he did not remain there after examination. The Home Service section of Morgan County Chapter American Red Cross would like to get in touch with every ex-service man in the county who is entitled to the bonus and who has not received it. He should see the Secretary, Miss Dawson, at headquarters in the public library between 9:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m.

WOMEN WORKERS IN DEMAND IN CHICAGO

Many are Wanted in Industrial Life — Men Workers Exceed Demand.

Chicago. — Demand for women workers continues to grow in Chicago while supply of male workers now exceeds demand, the women's department of the Illinois free employment bureau reports. Records show that during August there were 600 more calls for women at the Chicago office to H. H. Shutz, federal statistician for work. In the same month 404 more men asked for work than there were jobs.

The shortage among women workers here is particularly noticeable in domestic help, stenographers and factory help. Mrs. L. H. Waller, superintendent, says. Unskilled labor is reported to be more plentiful. Wages for all classes of women workers are slightly higher.

There was a registered demand for 2,947 women workers in the Chicago office during August.

while 2,302 registered for work, department records show.

10 cents extra for every pound of his cotton

What farm experience has taught
Jim Littlefield about overalls

WHEN Jim Littlefield, of Braden, Oklahoma, turned in his cotton crop last year, he got a ten-cent premium on every pound. Experience has taught him the grade of cotton that pays him best. And this same experience has taught him the sort of work clothes that wear best on the job.

James Littlefield has tried a lot of overalls since he started cotton raising—and today you'll find him in Blue Buckle Overalls.

No matter how heavy the work is on his farm, he has found that Blue Buckles stand every test he gives them. And today millions of men, raising the nation's food supply, running trains, mines, and factories, have found that Blue Buckles meet every test.

Find out for yourself about Blue Buckles. Test the long-wearing denim cloth, the wide, double-stitched seams. Try on a pair. Feel the comfort of the big, roomy Blue Buckle pattern—the free swing raglan sleeves in the coats. Blue Buckles never bind or rip. Solid workmanship in every detail is bound to give you your money's worth.

All sizes—Men's, Youths', Children's. Ask your dealer today for Blue Buckles.

"Blue Buckles stand the heaviest farm work."

FRENCH COLONIES SHOW GREAT PROGRESS

Exports in 1917 Amounted to Over Billion Francs—Big Agricultural Crops Raised.

New York—Unusual progress
in the development of commerce and natural resources in the French colonial possessions and dependencies has brought them wealth ranking next to that of the British colonial empire, according to a survey made public here by the French Commission.
The French colonies, with an estimated population of 50,500,000,
have an area of 4,000,000 square miles.

Total exports from the colonies
in 1917, with the exception of Algeria and Tunis were valued at approximately 1,108,000,000 francs. Since 1914 exports in the various possessions increased from 25 to 100 per cent. The increases are attributed to the thrift of natives following the war's end and Total Algerian exports in 1919

were more than 1,334,000,000 francs an increase of about 558 millions over 1918. The port of Algiers alone handled exports ap-proximating 475,158,000 francs,
an increase of 200,822,000 francs,
according to estimates. Chief imports were cotton, clothing and linen, skins, coal, sugar and coffee. Chief exports were wheat, barley and wool. Amounts of imports and exports were greatest in the order mentioned.

National Roads.
National roads in Algeria have a length of 3,310 miles, while 2,203
miles of railway were open for traffic in January 1919.

Tunis, essentially an agricultural country had bumper grain
crops in 1919, as follows: Wheat,
6,500,53 bushels; barley, 5,428-223 bushels; oats, 3,444,722 bushels. The cork industry is important, cork trees covering more than 600,000 acres. The annual mineral production averages in value more than 30,000-000 francs.

The spring estimate of 1920
harvest on the French one of Morocco valued the crops at 1-000,000,000 francs, and it was expected there would be a large surplus for export, the survey states.
Exports to France in 1918 were valued at 82,062,880 francs, the imports at 15,224,925 francs.

The French possession in India
consists of five separate colonies
with an aggregate area of 1,960
square miles. Rice, sugar, cotton, cocoa, coffee and ground nuts are grown. The principal export from Pondichery, the chief possession, is oil seeds.

French Indo-China has a population of about 17,000,000. The territory tributary to Saigon is almost entirely agricultural, being one of the great rice regions of the world. The minerals are coal, lignite, wolfram, tin and iron.

Has Other Possessions.

In other possessions including
Madagascar, French Equatorial
Africa, French Somaliland and French West Africa, which is the largest of the colonies, commerce
has almost doubled since 1914,
the survey says. French West Africa, comprised of Senegal,
Haut-Senegal-Niger, French Guinea, the Ivory Coast, Dahomey,
the military territory of the Niger
and Mauritania, covers approximately 1,840,000 square miles.

The general budget amounts to about 25,000,000,000 francs annually. The agricultural resources are most important. The production of cotton is growing, while rice, agave and sisal are cultivated extensively. Rubber is the most important product in the forest resources. Cattle raising has increased. The mineral wealth is great. The commerce of this possession increased 500 per cent since the French administration was created in 1895.

The French colonies in America, consisting of Guiana, Martinique, Guadeloupe and St. Pierre
and Miquelon are principally noted for their lumber products, sugar, rum, cocoa and codfish. Agriculture takes an important role in the smaller provinces, especially in New Caledonia, said to be one of the richest countries in the world.

Bituminous Coal Leader of all Bulk Commo-

MANY CARS OF AUTOS AND TRUCKS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—
First reports of analysis of American freight traffic on railroads begun this year by the interstate commerce commission were issued today and showed that during the first quarter of 1920 railroads moved 8,007,435
carloads of freight aggregating 275,931,608 tons.

Bituminous coal, of which, 1-866,632 cars were moved, was by far the leader in the list of bulk commodities. Forest products were next. Petroleum and its products amounted to 23,859 cars. Next in order were agricultural products. In addition to the cereal and vegetable products 196,537 cars of cattle and hogs, 174,000 cars of hogs and 88,924 cars of meats and packing house products were moved during the three months.

Among other commodities, the list showed 181,527 cars of steel products, 148,268 cars of fertilizers and 126,624 cars of automobiles and trucks.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 15.—
Because of the exceedingly warm weather of the past week, the bulk of the corn crop is now weather and crop bulletin for Iowa, but the heavy rains will have a tendency to prolong the corn's vegetable activity and retard maturity.

The Housewives Burden

When a woman is almost distracted from overwork, her home is in disorder, crying children, and on top of all is suffering from backache, bearing down pains, or some other form of feminine ills, then she should remember that hundreds of women in just her condition have been restored to health and regained their youthful strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and not rest until she has given it a fair trial.

Proof that it Restored the Health of These Two Women

Cairo, Ill.—"Some time ago I got so bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same
but I kept fighting to keep from having the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J.
R. MATTHEWS, 3311 Sycamore Street,
Cairo, Ill.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the ill effect
which so often develops at such times.
That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely
ever had to lie down during the day
and seldom had dizzy, fainting spells.
I am now well and strong, can do all my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women 'take Lydia E.
Pinkham's medicine and be strong.'
I will be glad to have you use my name
if it will be the means of helping any
one."—Mrs. R. A. FAIRBURN, 606
Orchard Knob Ave., Chattanooga, Tenn.

FRENCH COLONIES SHOW GREAT PROGRESS

New York—Unusual progress

wealth ranking next to that of
the British colonial empire, ac-

The French colonies, with an estimated population of 50,500,000,
have an area of 4,000,000 square
miles.

Total exports from the colonies
in 1917, with the exception of Algeria and Tunis were valued at approximately 1,108,000,000 frances. Since 1914 exports in the various possessions increased from 25 to 100 per cent. The increases

are attributed to the thrift of natives following the war's end.
Total Algerian exports in 1919
were more than 1,334,000,000
frances an increase of about 558 millions over 1918. The port of Algiers alone handled exports ap-proximating 475,158,000 francs,
an increase of 200,822,000 francs,
according to estimates. Chief imports were cotton, clothing and
linen, skins, coal, sugar and coffee. Chief exports were wines, fruit, tobacco, wheat, oats, barley and wool. Amounts of imports and exports were greatest in the order mentioned.

National Roads.
National roads in Algeria have a
length of 3,310 miles, while 2,203
miles of railway were open for traffic in January 1919.

Tunis, essentially an agricultural country had bumper grain
crops in 1919, as follows: Wheat,
6,500,53 bushels; barley, 5,428,
223 bushels; oats, 3,444,722
bushels. The cork industry is important, cork trees covering more than 600,000 acres. The annual mineral production averages in value more than 30,000,
000 francs.

The spring estimate of 1920
harvest on the French one of Morocco was 2,242,000 tons and was expected there would be a large surplus for export, the survey states.
Exports to France in 1918 were valued at 82,062,880 francs, the imports at 15,224,925 francs.

The French possession in India
consists of five separate colonies
with an aggregate area of 1,960
square miles. Rice, sugar, cotton, cocoa, coffee and ground
nuts are grown. The principal export from Pondichery, the chief
possession, is oil seeds.

French Indo-China has a population of about 17,000,000. The territory tributary to Saigon is almost entirely agricultural, being
one of the great rice regions of the world. The minerals are coal, lignite, wolfram, tin and iron.

Has Other Possessions.
In other possessions including
Madagascar, French Equatorial
Africa, French Somaliland and French West Africa, which is the largest of the colonies, commerce
has almost doubled since 1914,
the survey says. French West
Africa, comprised of Senegal,
Haut-Senegal-Niger, French Guinea, the Ivory Coast, Dahomey,
the military territory of the Niger
and Mauritania, covers approximately 1,840,000 square miles.

The general budget amounts to about 25,000,000,000 francs annually. The agricultural resources are most important. The production of cotton is growing,
while jute, agave and sisal are cultivated extensively. Rubber is the most important product in the forest resources. Cattle raising has increased. The mineral wealth
is great. The commerce of this possession increased 500 per cent since the French administration was created in 1895.

The French colonies in America, consisting of Guiana, Martin-
ique, Guadeloupe and St. Pierre
and Miquelon are principally noted for their lumber products, sugar, rum, cocoa and codfish. Agriculture takes an important role
in the smaller provinces, especially in New Caledonia, said to be one of the richest countries in
the world.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—
First reports of analysis of American freight traffic on rail-

that during the first quarter of 1920 railroads moved 8,007,435

Bituminous coal, of which, 1-

The Housewives Burden

When a woman is almost distracted from overwork, her home
is in disorder, crying children, and on top of all is suffering from backache, bearing down pains, or some other form of feminine ills,
then she should remember that hundreds of women in just her condition have been restored to health and regained their youthful strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and not rest until she has given it a fair trial.

Proof that it Restored the Health of These Two Women

Cairo, Ill.—"Some time ago I got so
bad with female trouble that I thought I would have to be operated on. I had a bad displacement. My right side
would pain me and I was so nervous I could not hold a glass of water. Many times I would have to stop my work
and sit down or I would fall on the floor in a faint. I consulted several doctors and every one told me the same
but I kept fighting to keep from having
the operation. I had read so many times of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped my sister so
I began taking it. I have never felt better than I have since then and
I keep house and am able to do all my work. The Vegetable Compound is certainly one grand medicine."—Mrs. J.
R. MATTHEWS, 3311 Sycamore Street,
Cairo, Ill.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the ill effect
which so often develops at such times.
That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely
ever had to lie down during the day
and seldom had dizzy, fainting spells.
I am now well and strong, can do all
my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to
other suffering women 'take Lydia E.
Pinkham's medicine and be strong.'
I will be glad to have you use my name
one."—Mrs. R. A. FAIRBURN, 606
Orchard Knob Ave., Chattanooga, Tenn.

BROOKLYNS LEAD SIX FULL GAMES

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Cleveland slipped into first place in the American League pennant race today while the battle between the other two contenders, Chicago and New York, resulted in a victory for the White Sox.

Brooklyn widened the gap separating it from Cincinnati to six full games by scoring first blood in the series with the Reds. The New York Nationals who split even with Pittsburgh are still a mathematical possibility. If Brooklyn wins six of its eleven remaining games, the Reds to nose them out would have to win 16 out of 18 and the Giants' task would be 15 straight with no defeats.

I AM NOT AFRAID OF WORK

There are too many small business men that hire done everything possible. Their work is half done and the price is higher. Twenty five years in the furniture business has taught me what furniture is and what it is worth, how it should be finished and what can be expected of it. When I recommend an article you have the benefit of what I know backed by a guarantee of your money back if you were deceived.

THESE ARE THE PLAIN FACTS

and is the reason that we sell three fourths of the used and refinished furniture. Our price is always lower and we are always ready to make good our guarantee. For like reason when we are called to buy we can offer you what your goods are worth. We do not guess at their value.

The Certain-teed Guarantee as a Basis for Estimating Roofing Cost

The Certain-teed guarantee provides a basis for estimating the approximate cost per year of your new roof. Certain-teed Roofing, Number 3 Heavy, is guaranteed for fifteen years. It usually lasts longer.

Taking fifteen years as the assured life and dividing the unusually low cost of Certain-teed, as compared to most modern types of roofing, by this figure, you readily see how economical Certain-teed is.

The light and medium weights of Certain-teed are also guaranteed, five years for the former and ten years for the latter.

In addition to its durability, Certain-teed is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof.

And it costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain than any other type of good roofing.

See a Certain-teed dealer about roofing. If he hasn't enough of the weight you want in stock he can quickly get more from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or distributing center.

BROOKLYNS LEAD SIX FULL GAMES

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Cleveland slipped into first place in the American League pennant race today while the battle between the other two contenders, Chicago and New York, resulted in a victory for the White Sox.

Brooklyn widened the gap separating it from Cincinnati to six full games by scoring first blood in the series with the Reds. The New York Nationals who split even with Pittsburgh are still a mathematical possibility. If Brooklyn wins six of its eleven remaining games, the Reds to nose them out would have to win 16 out of 18 and the Giants' task would be 15 straight with no defeats.

I AM NOT AFRAID OF WORK

There are too many small business men that hire done everything possible. Their work is half done and the price is higher. Twenty five years in the furniture business has taught me what furniture is and what it is worth, how it should be finished and what can be expected of it. When I recommend an article you have the benefit of what I know backed by a guarantee of your money back if you were deceived.

THESE ARE THE PLAIN FACTS

and is the reason that we sell three fourths of the used and refinished furniture. Our price is always lower and we are always ready to make good our guarantee. For like reason when we are called to buy we can offer you what your goods are worth. We do not guess at their value.

The Certain-teed Guarantee as a Basis for Estimating Roofing Cost

The Certain-teed guarantee provides a basis for estimating the approximate cost per year of your new roof. Certain-teed Roofing, Number 3 Heavy, is guaranteed for fifteen years. It usually lasts longer.

Taking fifteen years as the assured life and dividing the unusually low cost of Certain-teed, as compared to most modern types of roofing, by this figure, you readily see how economical Certain-teed is.

The light and medium weights of Certain-teed are also guaranteed, five years for the former and ten years for the latter.

In addition to its durability, Certain-teed is weather-proof, fire-retarding and spark-proof.

And it costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain than any other type of good roofing.

See a Certain-teed dealer about roofing. If he hasn't enough of the weight you want in stock he can quickly get more from a nearby Certain-teed warehouse or distributing center.
